VENGEANCE

Taken Upon the Assailant of President Diaz.

WAS LYNCHED LAST NIGHT.

Alarming Situation at Hazelton The Women Leading the Rioters.

FEDERATION OF LABOR WILL ACT.

City of Mexico, Sept. 17.—Ignacio Anullo, the assassin of President Diaz, was lynched last night by a furious mob.

Anullo was a notary's clerk and the assassin was committed during a military procession.

The President was marching on foot in the parade and as he neared the central part of the city Anullo forced his way through the gentlemen and struck at the President, but missed him, as he crowded between president and cabinet officers, who immediately closed around the president. Before Anullo could strike again Geo. Pradillo dealt him a blow which felled him. The gentlemen then pounced upon him and carried him to jail, followed by a shouting people. No weapon was found on the prisoner, but it is believed that he struck at the president with a poniard.

WOMEN RIOTERS.

Incite Men to Deeds of Violence and Desperation.

Hazelton, Pa., Sept. 17.—The striking miners and their wives are committing many depredations. Scavals have been assaulted and their houses burned. The situation is still very serious, and trouble may occur at any time.

Hazelton, Pa., Sept. 17.—The American Federation of Labor has taken up the cause of the mine workers in this region. Their organizers are already at work here and when this has been completed a uniform scale will be formulated and presented to the operators. There will be no marching nor anything in the nature of a demonstration, and no attempt will be made to bring about sympathetic strike movements.

To Change Color of Postage Stamps.

Washington, Sept. 16.—The secretary of the treasury and the postmaster general, after consultation with the president, have decided to change the color of the current 2c postage stamps from green to yellow. The change will be made on the stamps now in use on government notes. The 10c postage stamp, which is now printed in green, will be changed to some other color, possibly carmine. It is thought that green is a more desirable color than carmine, besides saving the government about $10,000 in the difference in cost between the two inks.

NO DANGER

Says President Troutman of the Board of Health.

The City Has Been Placed in Excellent Sanitary Condition.

Dr. Troutman, president of the local board of health, when asked his opinion as to the danger of yellow fever reaching here, stated that he had no reason to think such would occur.

"We are out of the yellow fever territory," said the doctor, "and unless it is imported here there seems but little danger."

"I wish you would say for the information of the people that proper steps are taken to watch closely all persons arriving in our city, either by boat or rail, and no infectious or contagious diseases will be permitted to land here. The board of health has had the city carefully inspected, and back premises and alleys cleaned and renovated every three or four weeks, and the general sanitary condition of the city is good—in fact better than it has been for years. A few of the gutters have been in bad condition because of their improper construction, but special attention has been called to this, and the mayor is now having them attended to."

"There has been an unusual growth of vegetation this year, and the season has been remarkable for its extreme heat. As a consequence, malarial attacks may be expected to some extent, but there will be no epidemic. With the precautions already taken and a continuation of the sanitary work, I feel safe in saying there will be no yellow fever, or any other epidemic."

"The people should willingly proceed to give their premises an extra cleaning, using lime or other disinfectants freely."

"I can see no reason for alarm."

School House.

The new school house at Oaks has been completed, and Sunday Rev. J. Henry Bailey will make the dedicatory speech. Prof. Floyd Riley begins school there next Monday.

FOR BRIBERY

Dr. Hunter and His Friends Are On Trial.

PROSECUTION ACQUITS TANNER.

Strong Circumstantial Evidence Introduced to Prove the Charges.

THE CASE WILL LAST SEVERAL DAYS.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 17.—The taking of evidence in the Hunter bribery cases will close today and the case will go to the jury this afternoon. A motion for peremptory instructions was overruled.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 17.—The long expected trial of ex-Congressman W. G. Hunter, ex-Congressman J. H. Wilson and E. T. Franks, charged with conspiring to bribe, began yesterday, in the circuit court.

When the clock struck 10, the motion hour having been completed, Judge Cantrell announced that the Hunter case was the next.

Dr. W. G. Hunter, E. T. Franks and J. H. Wilson, the defendants, were present. Noel Gaines and Thomas Tanner, prosecuting witnesses, as well as defendants, came in during the preliminary proceedings. Prominent among the witnesses early on hand was United States Senator Deboe.

For Hunter, Franks and Wilson, Judge W. S. Pryor, John W. Rodman, John Feland, James A. Scott appeared as attorneys. For Gaines and Tanner, Judge Ira Johnson and Guy H. Briggs acted as counsel.

The attorneys for Gaines and Tanner asked a separate trial for them, but the court overruled their motion. The Commonwealth then moved that the indictment against Tanner be dismissed at it prescribed. Tanner is an important witness for the prosecution. After the reading of the indictment and the selection of the jury, court adjourned until 2 p.

Upon reconvening of court in the afternoon, Gaines' attorneys resumed their fight for a separate trial for Gaines, but were again overruled. The Commonwealth called Thomas Tanner, the dismissed defendant, as its first witness. Tanner, when questioned by Commonwealth's attorney Smith, said that he knew all the defendants and also Representatives Clark, Gosson and Johns. He was then asked the direct question if he knew of any effort to bribe any member of the Legislature.

He said he knew of such an effort. He said he had been approached by Mr. Wilson, who said he wanted to talk to him about buying some votes. Tanner, in a straightforward way, told him some one telephoned him to come to the Capitol Hotel April 1; that he saw Dr. Hunter there, and Dr. Hunter asked him to show him the way to Gaines' house; that he walked in from of him, showed him the way there, and sat in a dining-room, adjoining a library where Hunter and Gaines sat. He heard but a part of the conversation. Many who had heard that Hunter would swear he never was at Gaines' house, or in South Frankfort, in his life, tipped with suppressed excitement, with Tanner told the story of Hunter's visit to Gaines.

Witness told minutely of the separate entrance by which they left the hotel that night. He told how he took Wilson over to Gaines' after he took Hunter there. Franks had introduced him to Wilson, and Wilson told him what he wanted to see Gaines about. He sat with Gaines and Wilson in Gaines' library. Wilson said they wanted votes and no foulness and would pay $5,000. Later, at another visit, he showed Gaines three packages of money containing $5,000 each. He said Wilson wanted to put the money in the safe of Mr. M. P. Gray, a local merchant and Republican.

Wilson would not agree to anything, but said he would stay in Gaines' house and hold the money until the votes were gotten; said they could hold a pistol on him if they wanted to. This arrangement didn't satisfy Gaines. He said he had a hundred conversations with Franks about buying the votes. Never could reach an agreement among themselves about where the money should be placed. Gaines always told them that the money was forthcoming. Franks told him originally that he thought Gosson, Clark and Johns could be bought; said that Johns wanted $10,000, but he thought he could be bought for less.

State Senator Clark told of seeing Dr. Hunter on the night of April 1 on the street between the Capitol Hotel and South Frankfort with a gentleman who he had since learned was Mr. Tanner and whom he at the time mistook for Senator Deboe (there is a marked resemblance between Senator Deboe and Mr. Tanner).

It is, of course, impossible to say what Dr. Hunter's testimony will be, but it is known that in private conversation he still insists that he never at Gaines' residence. The evidence on this point is in favor of Gaines, and Gaines' story that he was there on the night of April 1 was considered very strong by many who heard it this afternoon.

Sentiment here is divided. Gaines friends believe, and hope to see

HUNG JURY

Is What It Looks Like It Will Be

IN THE M'GILL CASE.

Jury Retired at 10 a. m.—Several Continuances Made Today.

OTHER CIRCUIT COURT NEWS.

It looks very much that there will be a hung jury in the McGill case. This is true for several reasons. One is that they have had the case long enough to have decided it several times, and another is that several men are believed to be of a compromising disposition, while others are of a different temperament.

Commonwealth's Attorney Bradshaw began his argument at 9 o'clock and spoke exactly an hour, lacking one minute. The jury retired shortly after 10 o'clock, and at 3 o'clock had reached no decision.

The following cases were today continued until next term of court: Fred Houser, H. M. Newport and Chas. Graham, selling liquor to minor.

Fred Connerus, charged with maliciously assaulting Will Aday at the Illinois Central blacksmith shop.

Charles Cassell, maliciously killing cattle.

Ed Owens and Shadrach Gillis, malicious shooting.

The case against Roland Curd, colored, charged with gaining, was dismissed.

Nordet Finley, colored, was on trial this afternoon for sticking a pitchfork into another darkey on McCutchen's farm.

The grand jury has returned indictments against several other prisoners now in jail.

YELLOW FEVER.

The Latest News From the Infected Districts.

The Situation in New Orleans Somewhat Better Today.

There was one death from yellow fever yesterday at Mobile and one at Biloxi. New cases were reported from Mobile and New Orleans. At Edwards, Miss., there are now several cases and thirty-five suspects. Cases have been reported from Clinton, Miss., and elsewhere. People are fleeing from Mobile and business is paralyzed. New Orleans business has been stagnant for days and the commercial bodies are trying to have the embargo upon supplies lifted. Those who were able have deserted New Orleans, leaving the poor to their fate. The mayor has issued an appeal for aid. Quarantine regulations are extending on every side. Many cities are quarantining against Atlanta. Some have quarantined against the entire state of Mississippi. Another detention camp may be established near Edwards, Miss.

New Orleans, Sept. 17.—A brighter outlook for New Orleans was evident last night so far as the fever situation is concerned. Of the cases investigated only three were pronounced suspicious and two declared yellow fever. The two new cases are: P. T. Tama, a butcher, thirty years of age, living at 1206 St. Andrews street, and E. Harman, a mulatto. The case of Harman is noteworthy because it is the first case wherein a negro has been attacked. Physicians are agreed that colored people are less susceptible than whites to yellow fever, and the correctness of the opinion seems to be borne out by the fact that in spite of the large negro population out of twenty cases only one has affected a member of that race.

One Death at Mobile. Mobile, Ala., Sept. 16.—This has been a black letter day for Mobile. One new case was announced at the noon meeting of the Board of Health, and two suspicious cases were reported. At 4 o'clock the first patient, Antonio Hagan, at the City Hospital, died and an autopsy was at once held, resulting in the declaration that he had undoubtedly died of yellow fever. This is the first death recorded here.

DIVORCE SUITS.

Two Couples Ask That the Fetters be Removed.

Lucie Young today filed suit in the circuit court for divorce against her husband, John Young. She alleges that he not only neglected and cruelly treated her, but drove her from home as well.

J. L. McGregor alleges that Mary McGregor, his lawful wife, abandoned him and now lives at Leitchfield. He thinks for this reason he is entitled to a divorce.

MR. ADAMS

RESIGNS.

The Popular Traveling Auditor Goes to the Short Line.

TAKES EFFECT OCTOBER 16TH.

His Successor Not Yet Named. Other Illinois Central News.

BUSINESS ON THE INCREASE.

Traveling Auditor Robert Adams, of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central, has resigned his position with the company, to take effect on Oct. 15.

On Oct. 15 this popular official will become traveling auditor of the St. Louis, Peoria and Northern Railway Company, better known as the "Peoria Short Line," with headquarters at St. Louis.

Auditor Adams is one of the most efficient of the many affable I. C. officials, and everybody will regret to learn of his resignation, which was prompted simply by the offer of a more lucrative position.

Mr. Adams' successor has not been named, and no one, so far as can be learned, has been tipped for the position. The appointment rests with the chief traveling auditor, and as there is nearly a month's time before Mr. Adams' resignation takes effect, it may be several days before any appointment is made.

There was some little excitement at the Union depot yesterday over a dead mule. As stated in yesterday's Sun, the animal belonged to B. D. Thompson, of Benton, and escaped from the wagon yard. The railroad men claim that the mule attempted to walk the incline and fell off, breaking his neck, but the owner says it looks like the switch engine killed it. Section Foreman Carroll started to bury the carcass down near the incline and was arrested by Officer Jones, as it would have been a misdemeanor. He was afterwards released, however, and the animal's remains were hauled outside the city limits. There is likely to be a controversy over paying damages for the mule, as the company claims it was not to blame.

The stockholders of the Illinois Central have ratified the proposed issue of $20,000,000 gold bonds on the Louisville division, to be secured by a first mortgage on the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern and other property controlled by the Central. This places the Louisville division on the same basis as other parts of the system.

Passenger conductors of the Illinois Central are required to report the number of passengers into Paducah to Transmitter J. J. Flynn. North-bound trains send report by telegraph from Kuttawa, and south-bound conductors report to the Union depot baggage agent. The order went into effect yesterday, and its purpose is not stated.

Traveling Auditor R. Adams went up to Princeton this morning.

Roadmaster A. T. Sabin went up the road this morning on the 8 o'clock train.

Mr. Cole Waggoner, foreman at the Illinois Central pile driver, sprained both hands yesterday by a fall from the trestle.

Mr. W. A. Russell, formerly general passenger agent of the St. Paul and Duluth railroad, has been made chief clerk in the passenger department of the Illinois Central railroad's southern divisions, with headquarters in Louisville. He succeeds Mr. S. W. Wells, who formerly occupied the position of chief clerk of Mr. W. Alfred Kellond. Mr. Wells is now on his vacation, and it is not yet settled what position he will take on resuming work.

Mr. Russell is filling one of the best places in the Southern department, since Mr. Kellond has jurisdiction over about 2500 miles of road.

Newbern, Tenn., today quarantined against people from the South. There is said to be considerable excitement there.

Baggage-master Clayton, of the St. Louis division, was painfully injured yesterday at Carbondale, Ill., while coupling cars.

Claim Agent John G. Miller, returned yesterday from Chicago.

Mr. Wm. Hassman, the new Master Mechanic, arrived from Water Valley, Miss., this morning, and assumed charge of I. C. shops, succeeding Mr. Chambers. Mr. Hassman is an old Paducah railroad man, and is very popular with everybody. His family accompanied him.
